DETAILED ACTION

The amendment to the claims filed 1/4/06 has been entered into the record. Claims 22-43 are pending in the application. Claims 1-21 are cancelled.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 22-25, drawn to a method of treating or preventing a disease comprising administering to an animal in need of such treatment, a pharmaceutical or nutritional composition comprising a single cell protein material.

Group II, claim(s) 26 and 43, drawn to a cardio protective pharmaceutical or nutritional composition comprising a single cell protein material.

Group III, claim(s) 27-34, drawn to a method of changing the fatty acyl profile and for improving the lipid homeostasis of an animal comprising administering to an animal in need of such treatment, a pharmaceutical or nutritional composition comprising a single cell protein material.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the technical feature linking the Groups I-III is a pharmaceutical or nutritional composition comprising a single cell protein. This technical feature is disclosed by Johannessen et al (WO 01/60974, 2001) who teach a food comprising a single-cell protein (see abstract and claims 18 and 19 p. 26). Therefore, this technical feature is not special within the meaning of PCT Rule 13.2 and thus the Groups lack unity of invention.

Species Election

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Group I

- disease - (1) atherosclerosis/coronary heart disease, (2) stenosis/coronary heart disease, (3) thrombosis/coronary heart disease, (4) myocardial infarction/ coronary heart disease, (5) stroke/coronary heart disease, (6) fatty liver, (7) hypercholesterolemia and (8) hyperhomocysteinemia
- animal- human, gallinaceous birds, bovine, ovine, caprine and porcine, fish/shellfish,
- bacteria- Methylococcus capsulatus, Ralstonia sp., Brevibacillus agri and Aneurinibacillus sp.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the specie of atherosclerosis/coronary heart disease is known in the art (Ross et al. Nature vol. 362:801-809, 1993), thus the species of diseases lack unity. The specie of human is known in the art (Ross et al. Nature vol. 362:801-809, 1993, p. 803 column 1 4th complete paragraph), thus the species of animals lack unity. The specie of Methylococcus capsulatus is known in the art (Johannessen et al WO 01/60974, 2001, p. 25 claim 13) thus the species of bacteria lack unity.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Notice of Possible Rejoinder

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
